FUNERAL SHIP STEAMS INTO HALIFAX

Greeted With Tolling of Church
Bells and Flags Lowered at Half Mast

PILES OF TITANIC DEAD
BURDEN DECK OF SHIP

Citizens Uncover Heads and Avert Faces as Bodies Are Taken to Morgue

HALIFAX, April 30.—With one hundred and ninety-six bodies aboard the Mackay-Bennett, the Titanic funeral ship, docked today. There were only two bodies of women recovered. J. J. Astor was identified by his jewelry. One hundred and sixteen bodies were buried at sea on account of their condition.

As the vessel docked the church bells tolled and flags waved at half mast. One hundred bluejackets patrolled the harbor and policed the pier, excluding all those without passes. As the ship approached the harbor, the piles of bodies were visible on her decks. Many were wrapped in burlap, while others were without covering. The uncovered bodies were first removed to the temporary morgue. No crowd of curiosity seekers thronged to the pier. The city continued its business, the citizens uncovering and averting their faces when passing the dock. Each body was placed in a pine coffin, and so arranged as to easily permit relatives holding permits to identify them. Captain Roberts of J. J. Astor's yacht, viewed the body believed to be Astor's and remarked: "That is Colonel Astor." The body believed to be that of George Widener, the Philadelphia millionaire, was in such a condition that it was buried at sea. The captain of the Mackay-Bennett explained that personal identification was really impossible but that marks on the clothes led to the belief that the body was that of Widener. The body of Isadore Straus was coffined.

Many of the bodies had been so badly frozen as to be unrecognizable. The unidentified dead included a two-year-old girl, found floating on a piece of wreckage, her face battered beyond recognition. The captain of the Mackay-Bennett is paying all burial expenses with an order on the White Star Steamship Company.

Astor's body was sent to the Curling Rink morgue with the others. Captain Lardner explained that many bodies were buried at sea because it was impossible to care for them. The bodies were identified in many cases by names in their clothes. He did not expect to recover so many bodies and had embalming fluid sufficient for only seventy, and was afraid the others would not keep. Rev. Minda, an Episcopalian, officiated at the sea burials. Many bodies had been crushed to pulp between the ice cakes.

SEA COVERED WITH BODIES
LIKE SWIMMING GULLS

Captain Lardner said: "On Monday we found twenty-six bodies. Tuesday we sighted many, and covered ninety before noon. A storm came up and we got only twenty-nine during the afternoon. All the bodies were floating separately. In one place I saw bodies scattered on the surface like swimming gulls, the white ends of the life preservers fluttering in the wind. Many were undoubtedly killed or injured before the ship sank. The water sweeping the decks must have carried them against stanchions and beams. Throughout Wednesday a heavy wind and fogs prevented work. The cableship Minia arrived Friday. By noon we had recovered fourteen more, and started for Halifax, having as many dead as we could care for. There were three sea burials, Tuesday, Wednesday night and Thursday noon. We sent the bodies into the sea three at a time."

TITANIC PROBE CROWDED
TODAY TO HEAR ISMAY

WASHINGTON, April 30.—E. J. Dunn of Beechurst, Long Island, testified before the Titanic wreck investigators that a man whose name he refused to reveal, told him that the White Star Company had received messages before 8 a. m., April 15th, saying that the Titanic was lost. He pledged his word not to reveal his informant's name, but the man was the father of the Western Union operator receiving the message. Chairman Smith declared that he would force him to reveal the name even by "drastic methods, if necessary."

State Employees Not Dragooned For Roosevelt

SACRAMENTO, April 30.—John F. Neylan, a member of the State Board of Control, denied the charge made by the Taft publicity bureau that the Johnson administration is dragooning state employees into the Roosevelt campaign.

"I challenge anyone to find a single Johnson appointee who has been asked to do anything for Roosevelt," said Neylan. "Another thing, I challenge them to investigate the matter of appointments in any of the state institutions for political reasons. When this board took office, we found in the files many letters asking a superintendent's place for this or that political worker."

BLIND PIGGER'S TO GO THROUGH UP AGAINST ORANGE ON BURGLARY LEMON

Suit of Clothes Found in Garcia's House Was Stolen at Anaheim

Officers Who Caught Yorba Liquor Seller Sure They Have a Bad Man
Committee Named at Mass Meeting Last Night to Negotiate With Railway

When Deputy District Attorney Koepsel, Constable Heard and Deputy Sheriff Law and Ramsey raided Antonio Garcia's blind pig two miles above Yorba they found more than they expected. They found a suit of clothes stolen from the Sutorium of Anaheim on the night of Feb. 17, and Garcia is up against something far more serious than the misdemeanor for which he was arrested. He is charged with burglary.

In Garcia's place the officers not only found the suit of clothes, which belongs to Herman Stern of Anaheim and which was stolen from the cleaners, but other articles that the officers are satisfied were stolen by Garcia. In the list is a box containing twenty-four pairs of sheepskin gloves and a box of soap. This morning the suit of clothes was fully identified, and the complaint was sworn to. The theft occurred while the cleaners were at work in the front part of their shop. The thief entered the rear room and stole the suit.

The officers are convinced that in Garcia they have a bad hombre, probably guilty of many more thefts than can ever be traced to him.

GOV. JOHNSON GREETED BY 4,000 CHEERING MEN AND WOMEN

LOS ANGELES, April 30.—Four thousand cheering men and women rose to their feet last night to welcome Gov. Hiram W. Johnson as he stepped on the Temple Auditorium stage to speak for Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and the great progressive cause of which Gov. Johnson himself is so eminent a representative and champion.

One hundred and fifty members of the Roosevelt Business Women's League were on the stage, and State Senator Leo Gates presided over the meeting. Gates was also the other speaker of the evening.

Gov. Johnson, to hear whom many thousands crowded to the Auditorium doors only to be turned away for lack of room, showed us fallacy and inconsistency of La Follette in now denouncing Roosevelt, whom he had recently proclaimed as the "greatest living American." He pointed out the fact that La Follette is campaigning in what is already a progressive state instead of trying to win other states to the cause as Roosevelt is doing.

In his speech Gov. Johnson said: "The people all over this state are fighting for the preservation of what we won in 1910, and this is of more importance to California than almost anything else."

"President Taft when he assumed the duties of his office, said: 'The policies which he (Roosevelt) inaugurated must be continued and developed. They are right, and they are the policies of the people.'"

"And thus came into office three years ago, for the avowed purpose of carrying out the policies of his predecessor, the candidate today who asks the suffrage of the people of the United States. And then when he thus came into office, what occurred? The country life commission died, accomplishing nothing. Nothing in respect to child labor has since developed and no attempts such as were made by President Roosevelt have since been made by President Taft."

Buena Park—Geo. Wilcox.
Anaheim—O. T. Cailor, Dutton.

On motion, unanimously carried, all the vice-presidents are authorized to appoint their respective wives—those who have wives—as vice-presidents and bring them with them to grace the occasion and lend their influence by sitting on the stage.

A committee consisting of Steele Finley, S. M. Davis and Senator John N. Anderson was appointed to get up an automobile escort and parade. The autos will assemble at the Rossmore Hotel and start for Fullerton at 3 p. m. sharp, to meet the Governor. He will leave Los Angeles about 3 o'clock by auto, and arrive at Fullerton about 4:15 or 4:30. The arrival in this city will be about 5 or 5:30.

Governor Johnson and his party will be entertained while in the city by Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner. A committee of the Roosevelt Republican Club will call at their home for the Governor at 8 o'clock and escort him to the opera house, where he is scheduled to begin his speech about 8:30. The hour is fixed a little late in order that those who wish to hear him without missing prayer meeting may do so. In co-operation with this plan some of the pastors of the city have called their prayer meetings from 15 to 30 minutes earlier than usual and others will make the services brief.

Hon. S. C. Evans, an old personal friend of Senator Anderson, will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Anderson while in the city.

ROOSEVELT SATISFIED WITH OUTLOOK—GOES HOME

Taft Equally Confident—First Returns Favorable to Roosevelt

BOSTON, April 30.—The bitterest campaign in the recent history of Massachusetts marked by personal exchanges between President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt came to a climax today in the state presidential preference primaries. The interest was intense. A battle royal was waged between Champ Clark and Woodrow Wilson for the Democrats, and Taft and Roosevelt for the Republicans.

Despite the fact that heavy rains were falling, the intense interest in the Massachusetts primaries was evident. The indications were that the voting would be of the heaviest. Both Taft and Roosevelt were confident of victory. Senator Crane predicted a Taft landslide, while the Roosevelt forces claimed they would secure two-thirds of the sixty-six delegates. The La Follette people declare that the Wisconsin Senator would be sure to make an excellent showing. Early voting in Boston was heavy, but the polls opened late in the outside cities.

REWARDS OFFERED TODAY FOR FOUR OF LAST FRIDAY'S PAPERS

Numbers Wanted are in Advertisements—Four of Five Rewards Claimed Last Week

Interest in the Friday numbered papers is steadily increasing and it is now pretty certain that a large majority of Register subscribers are watching for the numbered papers each Friday. Last week of the five numbers called for, four were brought in. Using this as a basis, it is safe to assume that four out of five subscribers saved their Friday's paper until the following Tuesday. It is equally certain that the same proportion looked through the advertisements in Tuesday's paper until they found the numbers that rewards were offered for.

One of the papers to win a prize last week was sent in by Chas. R. Ward, a former resident of Santa Ana, but now living in Riverbank, Stanislaus county. Ward's paper was 2533 of Friday, April 19th, and that number was in the Horton-Spurgeon Furniture Company's ad. last Tuesday.

Another paper that won a prize was held by Mrs. C. M. Halderman of Newport Road, Tustin. Mrs. Halderman's numbered paper was 1602, which was printed in the Reinhaus Department Store's advertisement in last Tuesday's issue.

Mrs. Geo. M. Shaw, corner of Washington and Artesia streets, held the paper numbered 1191, and this number appeared in the advertisement of the Rankin Dry Goods Company last Tuesday.

Mrs. E. C. Jones of 419 East Fifth street brought in the paper numbered 408, which number was found in Hill, Carden, & Company's advertisement.

Today there are four numbers in the advertisements, each of which entitle the holder of a last Friday's paper bearing corresponding number, to one dollar.

RAISIN WISDOM FOR RAISIN DAY— READ AND BENEFIT

(By David White of Los Angeles, in Los Angeles Tribune.)

Raisin day is to be celebrated April 30 (today). It is right to glorify the raisin. It is the best "fruit of the vine," better than wine or brandy or grape juice, or even ripe grapes. Sugar is now considered to be a necessary part of a "balanced ration," but cane sugar is not the best form of sugar. Uncooked fruit sugar is better, and raisin sugar is among the best of the fruit sugars. But, in order to get the full value of raisins they must be eaten UNCOOKED, not cooked. Many recipes are extant to use them in some cooked form, but when raisins are cooked they lose most, if not all of their food value. The seeds are the great drawback to their being eaten raw. There are seedless raisins but they lack the flavor of the real muscatel. Raisins may also be had seeded, deprived of their seeds, but the price is double that of loose muscatels. The problem is how to prepare them so as to get the full benefit of their goodness at the least cost. I give you the following recipes:

Raisin Jam

Remove the stems from the loose muscatels and grind them in a food chopper with the peanut butter grinder in place, set close. The product is a smooth paste, the seeds and skins being finely crushed. Placed in a covered vessel it will keep indefinitely. It should be handled with a dry spoon, no water being allowed to touch it, as that would induce fermentation. This jam may be spread on bread or used like any kind of cooked sweetmeats. A raisin sandwich of graham bread makes a delicious meal.

Raisin Sauce

With a dry spoon place some of the raisin jam in a bowl and add two or three spoonfuls of water for each spoonful of jam. Crush and mix with a spoon thoroughly. If allowed to stand an hour or two, much of the water will be absorbed, making the sauce thicker, though it may be used at once like any fruit sauce.

Raisin Candy

If the jam, as soon as made, be placed in a dish, pressed down, covered and allowed to become dry, as it will in a week or two, it may then be cut in squares or other forms and it is a delicious candy. If children and grownups, too, would confine their candy and sugar eating to fruit sugars, and especially to raisin sugar, it would be good for them as well as for the raisin growers.

Would any price take those old de-guerreotypes of dear ones, taken long ago? Posterity will cherish yours, too. Think about it. There is a photographer here. See Hickox.

SWEETS AND SAINT MIKES

Packing Houses at Anaheim
Are Keeping Busy on two Varieties

ANAHEIM, April 30.—The three packing-houses in Anaheim are all going full capacity. Two of them are running on Mediterranean sweets, while the independent packing-house is handling St. Michaels.

Manager Parrent of the Independent Company said that, "As fine oranges as produced anywhere in the state are now going out from Anaheim. I do not know of finer fruit that has ever gone from this city or this district than we are at the present sending out, and I do not know of finer fruit, taken from beginning to end, having ever been sent out from any section of California. Having been in the business in the state for a number of years, it is part of our business to know where the good fruit comes from and how it runs, I feel qualified to talk about quality in general."

"Regarding the Anaheim orange producing territory, I do not believe there is any longer any question in the mind of any well-informed person in regard to the orange grower being able to produce some grades of fruit here better than he can anywhere else. Orange growers are coming in for their share of the prosperity that comes along with the late rains and are facing an excellent situation."

New Structure

Ground is being broken for one of the finest garage buildings south of Los Angeles. It is to be situated on South Los Angeles street and will cost $6000. It is to be occupied by the Anaheim Motor Company, a new organization in the city, with $50,000 capitalization. F. M. Jackson is president and R. W. Jackson is vice-president. Misses Sophia and Marie Rimpau, who own the property where the new building is to be erected, are to build a garage. The contract for the building is now in the hands of local contractors and the work will be rushed, so that the new building will be ready for use by June 1. The Anaheim Motor Company will handle the Colby cars and William M. Colby, president of the Colby Motor Company, just visited Anaheim and made a tour of the city with the view of looking up a suitable location for a branch factory. The Colby Motor Company of Mason City, Ill., is a $2,000,000 concern.

At the first regular meeting of the new city council, Frank Gates was the unanimous choice for the position of a member of the council of the city, which was made vacant by the resignation of C. O. Rust, who is at the present time touring Europe with his family. Mr. Rust has acted as mayor of this city for several years. Mr. Gates has just completed a four-year term as councilman of this city and proved to be a good one. Homer Ames was reappointed city attorney and John Kellenberger was reappointed marshal and street superintendent.

Morton Hunt, representing a Los Angeles typewriter company, has just visited this city looking for W. W. Mowrey, who in February procured a typewriter from the company on trial, saying that he was about to open a business in Anaheim. Hunt was unable to locate the man, and no one here knows anything about him.

The Anaheim Union Water Company has practically completed its water well on the Gunber tract at Richfield and the contractor estimates it will develop at least 600 miner's inches of water. The pumping plant and reservoir at Placentia are being completed and this will hold two and a half million gallons.

SURVEY HERE IS IMPORTANT

Darlington Says Work is Preliminary, But Made With Good Reason

Los Angeles Tribune: The most important survey recently authorized to be made in Southern California, according to N. D. Darlington, state highway commissioner, who arrived in Los Angeles Saturday afternoon in company with Commissioner Charles D. Blaney for a stay of a week, is that under way between north and south boundaries of Orange County. This road, which was recommended to the highway commission recently by many of the commercial bodies of Orange County, runs from San Juan Capistrano to La Habra, by way of Irvine, Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton.

"These, it must be understood, merely are preliminary surveys," said Commissioner Darlington yesterday.

JUNIORS WIN OUT

OVER H. S. SENIORS

Inter-Class Baseball Game Was Lively One—West Drives Out Three Baggers

(By Vern Smith)

At the annual inter-class baseball game between the Juniors and Seniors of Santa Ana high school, at Lincoln Park, yesterday, the Juniors unmercifully walloped the Seniors, the score was 18 to 9.

West, of the Junior nine, went to bat and knocked a three-bagger over center field, sending Deaver, thus scoring a run. This seemed to start things for the Juniors. Baker got a walk and this brought Andrews to bat. Baker stole second and Andrews lammed a two-bagger hit over second, bringing in West and Baker. Tedford went to bat and Andrews trying to steal second was put out. Tedford slugged a two-bagger over right field. Lowry, next man up, was walked and

Potato Doughnuts

(Recipe by Mrs. Helen Armstrong)

You will find these doughnuts both delicious and digestible; there's no "nightmare" or lard indigestion in them:

Cream three tablespoons of Cottole, add three-fourths cup of sugar, and three yolks of eggs well beaten with one white. Stir in one cupful of freshly mashed potato and one-half cup of milk. Sift two and one-half cups of flour with three teaspoons of baking powder, half a teaspoon each of salt and ground mace, also a little nutmeg, and add to first mixture. Working in additional flour as necessary to handle lightly. Roll and cut all doughnuts before attempting to fry. Fry in Cottole three inches deep in kettle and test temperature with a piece of bread.

stole second. Covington got a two-base hit over right field, bringing in Tedford and Lowry. This inning was nothing but a slugging bee for the Juniors, and shows how they made five runs in the third inning.

In the last half of the third the Seniors didn't do very much. Glidden got to first on an error and stole second and third. McFadden singled through second, bringing Glidden home. Greely fanned, Bates popped a fly to pitcher, and Schenck fanned.

The greatest find of the season among the inter-class baseball players is that phenomenal pitcher "Dutch" Alsbach. He is "some" classy twirler and has all the earmarks of a fast finger.

As a whole the game was interesting from the start and much enthusiasm was shown by the teams' supporters.

CLUB MEETING AT RIVERA LAST WEEK

GARDEN GROVE, April 30.—The Auld Lang Syne Club met last week at Rivera with Mrs. Ed. Johnson. A bounteous luncheon was served at 1 o'clock, to which all did ample justice. A short business session was held. The club was pleased to welcome Mrs. Louise Ellsworth of Bakersfield as a member.

Those in attendance besides the host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hill and Mrs. Jennie Newson of Long Beach; Mrs. Emma Wassum, Mrs. Mabel Lowell and Miss Percy Head of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Newsom, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Chaffee, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harrison, Mrs. Lida Mitchell, Mrs. Estelle Harper and Miss Bertha Robinson of Garden Grove, and Mr. and Mrs. Will Newsom of Rivera.

It was decided to hold the next meeting in the form of a picnic at Anaheim Landing on July 4th.

Revival services at the M. E. church, South, are proving very helpful to those in attendance.

Rev. W. L. C. Samson delivered a strong sermon which was enjoyed by the prayerful, attentive congregation which came to hear. His words fell into good and honest hearts and will bring a rich harvest. We shall be glad to welcome Brother Samson into our pulpit at any time. The trumpet in his hands gives no uncertain sound.

Tonight Rev. O. S. Russell, pastor of the First Baptist church, will preach the sermon, and we hope to see a large congregation composed of representatives from all the churches and of those who are members of no church. In the language of the Book of Books, "Whosoever will, let him come."

Harry Warner is leading the congregation in song, and he is doing it as his custom is—well.

A. F. STEM, Pastor.

AMUSEMENTS

The picture as gotten up by the Vitagraph Co. is as much of a classic as the novel is.

MOVEMENT FOR A WEEKLY REST DAY

A movement is on foot to secure by law a weekly rest day. Dr. G. L. Tufts of Berkeley, who discussed the question at the First M. E. church, on Sunday, will address a union meeting at the German Evangelical church tonight. His subject will be, "Does it Pay to Work on Sunday?" The public is invited and especially the business and laboring classes.

Said Mr. Tufts, the proposed bill will be submitted by a State central committee as an initiative measure at the November election. It will be a conservation bill, based upon a law of hygiene, that demands a weekly rest day to insure good health. It cannot be termed religious legislation, as it is strictly a civil statute. Yet it will be helpful to public morals, which is one of the chief objects of government. It will allow those who observe Saturday as a day of rest and worship to work on Sunday, so the Seventh Day Adventists have no grounds for opposing the bill. Those who do the necessary work and business of Sunday are to have some other day during the week for rest. The provisions of the bill will be fully explained at the meeting tonight.

MRS. HUMPHREY'S FUNERAL WILL BE HELD TOMORROW

CLOSE AT HOME

When he was in Santa Ana last week, Rev. Dana W. Bartlett of Los Angeles urged the people of this city to form organizations to prepare for handling the vast crowds of immigrants that will come into Southern California with the opening up of the Panama Canal three years hence.

Orange county, in common with other Southern California counties, has an immigration problem already at hand. Organizations looking to doing something three years hence would be excellent institutions, but they need not wait three years to get busy.

We have an immigration problem here and now, and it is a problem worth studying. We have hundreds of Mexicans who have come here to labor in our sugar beet and celery fields and in our orchards. So far, they have proven the best available labor, better than Japanese or Hindu. Our farmers would prefer white labor if they could get it, but failing to get white labor the farmers have taken the men from across the south border.

The Mexicans have brought with them their own standards of living and their own ideas as to what is right and wrong. A few days ago a Mexican was in Judge West's court on a charge of running away with a Mexican girl. His only excuse was that down in Mexico where he came from it was not considered out of the way to get a wife that way. He was ignorant of American standards. He had not been convinced that, now that he is in the United States, he must live according to the laws of this land.

To a large extent, this Mexican's statement may be taken literally. Too many of the Mexicans are attempting to live here as perhaps they did in Mexico, where life was free and easy, where revenge with a knife was a virtue, and crime not always a shame.

We notice the result of this condition in the criminal courts of the county. The criminal work of the offices of the district attorney and sheriff is increasing at a rate that makes the problem serious from the standpoint of expense, if nothing else. The iron hands of the officers are felt every day, and their course of landing hard and as often as possible doubtless has a good effect, probably a far better effect than we can measure. By handling in a vigorous manner every criminal case that comes up they are doing their share in teaching these recent immigrants that, now that they are here, they must obey the law or suffer the consequences.

But there is no other way of bettering the situation than merely by hammering away in prosecutions, by cleaning out blind pigs, by sending wife-beaters to jail and putting peace disturbers on the courthouse lawn?

Here is a problem for the societies proposed by Rev. Bartlett, an opportunity to get into early practice some of the plans that otherwise might not be of service until 1915.

JOHNSON IN LOS ANGELES

Governor Hiram W. Johnson spoke at a great mass meeting last evening at the Auditorium, in Los Angeles. There was a tremendous throng on hand to hear California's progressive and courageous chief executive discuss the issues of the campaign.

With all the vim and fire which has characterized his campaign methods in the past, the Governor set forth his argument on behalf of Theodore Roosevelt. Preaching the well known doctrine of Progressivism, he showed by irrefutable facts and unanswerable logic that every California Progressive should vote for the ex-president who is to become a president again. A division of progressive strength in this state would be folly. He stripped away the sophistries by which it has been sought to bolster other candidates and revealed the situation as it is.

Time and again his address was punctuated by prolonged applause, the audience showing its thoroughgoing sympathy with his statements.

President Lee C. Gates of the Roosevelt Progressive Republican League presided at the meeting and delivered a brief, stirring address.

Earlier in the evening the Governor spoke before the Business Women's Roosevelt club, where he was tendered an ovation. A large number of members of the club attended the Auditorium meeting in a body, acting as co-presidents and occupying seats on the stage.

Governor Johnson will spend the week-making tour of the state, his days in Santa Ana, Tuesday, May 2, at the

ALAS! POOR HAMMOND

Someone has said that, while heaven gives us our relatives, we have the blessed privilege of choosing our friends. Heaven gave Charles Mifflin Hammond of Lake County to Theodore Roosevelt as a brother-in-law. Both parties are free to choose their friends.

Charles Mifflin Hammond has had rather an unhappy time in this campaign. A colonel by courtesy, he was brevetted "general" at the outset of the present "unpleasantness" by the bosses who chose to seek shelter behind him. "Roosevelt's brother-in-law" is against him, was the cry of these bosses but a few short weeks ago. Hammond was a "great find."

Now, "General" Hammond seems to have diminished in rank, by successive stages in retrogression, until at this writing he is a mere private in the rear ranks.

The sadness of it all lies in the fact that Roosevelt's brother-in-law has done his best. But his best was the worst ever. The Taft campaign has gone to pieces, with Hammond nominally in command. Those who put him up, now suffering from chagrin, vent all their fury and fustian upon him. They say he is to blame; that he did it; that he is a pompous blunderer. In short, they wish Roosevelt's brother-in-law had never announced that he was against Roosevelt.

Cheer up, Colonel, your finish will come on May 14th.

The "cocked hat" has made its re-appearance in the campaign. This time it represents the Reactionary yam that Medill McCormick's support of Theodore Roosevelt means that the Harvester Trust is backing the Colonel's candidacy. Mr. McCormick, who is now in California, declares that he does not own a dollar's worth of Harvester trust stock. He has two cousins interested in the trust. One of them is supporting President Taft; the other Governor Wilson of New Jersey. Thus another reactionary becomes unavailable for further use—knocked into a cocked hat, so to speak.

The La Follette following is ten times more likely to coalesce with the Taft people than with Roosevelt and his partisans. It is practically certain that they will never go to Roosevelt. From an editorial in the San Jose Mercury, (Hayes Brothers), which this season is fiercely standpoint.

The primaries in Massachusetts will be held next Tuesday. Senator Murray Crane has six of the 40 delegates "sewed up" for Taft and it is a free field for the 34 delegates. Thirty-two of these are counted as sure for Roosevelt.

According to San Francisco advices, the betting odds in that city are 2 to 1 in favor of Roosevelt as against Taft and La Follette. In Los Angeles no Taft money whatever has made its appearance in sporting circles.

Collier's Weekly, ardent admirer of La Follette as a constructive law-maker, never favored him for the presidency. It has frankly given its estimate of him as unfitted for that particular job.

Everybody goes to hear La Follette—Roosevelt supporters, Taft supporters, Clark supporters, in fact, all of them. The Senator is always worth hearing.

No strong progressive Republican sentiment in one Tennessee district that there are two contesting Roosevelt delegations.

Santa Ana, California, Tuesday, May 2, at the

All Eyes On Massachusetts

Political interest, for the moment, is centered in Massachusetts, where the campaign during the last few days reached the hammer-and-tongs stage, and where the primaries today will add one more to the list of states whose presidential delegates are chosen and instructed by the direct vote of the people.

"It is, of course, this fact," points out the Fresno Republican, "that accounts for the general interest in the result. The people take only a languid interest in the piling up of delegations, on either side, where it is done by the mere rules of the game. Interest in the game aspect of politics has ceased. It is the direct tests of popular sentiment that count."

"Without direct knowledge of the immediate situation, it must be conceded that general conditions favor Taft in Massachusetts. Any other result would be a reversal of the normal alignment, and the only reason for looking to such a reversal as even possible is the fact that it did happen in Pennsylvania. After Pennsylvania, nothing is impossible. But only a stampede of abnormal magnitude could carry Massachusetts to Roosevelt. Massachusetts is a naturally conservative state, which has had, until recently, a ruling class of what Oliver Wendell Holmes called the Brahmin caste. That caste is Mugwump. A Mugwump is a Republican who votes the Democratic ticket."

The Progressive Republican movement in Massachusetts has always been retarded by this fact. Massachusetts goes Democratic, sometimes on small provocation, but those who are of the Republican camp are the regulars of regulars.

These Brahmins are as a rule Harvard men. Roosevelt is a Harvard man, but, curiously, Harvard is almost the only American university that is not for him. Straw votes in the colleges all over the country were almost universally for Roosevelt, except in Harvard, where Taft was always ahead. Massachusetts is almost the home of the "Harvard class"—the small holders of corporation stocks and bonds. All these are naturally conservative. Besides, Massachusetts has had, by the patronizing wisdom of its ruling class, a remarkably good government. It is harder to revolt against paternalism when it is really benevolent. And contentment tends to the stability of the existing order. Massachusetts, too, likes the "Harvard manner"—that affectation of quiet self-depreciation which is really the height of egotism. Needless to say, Harvard's most distinguished graduates does not exemplify the Harvard manner.

"These and other considerations tend to make Taft in Massachusetts probable. As contrary indications may be cited the precedent of Pennsylvania, the tremendous ovations Roosevelt is receiving, and the greatly changed character of the population of the state. The Lawrence strike, for instance, was conducted by persons who knew not the Brahmin. A year ago, shrewd Massachusetts observers stated that they believed there was enough of the rank and file of Progressive Republicans in Massachusetts to carry the state, if they only had leadership and organization. They have both now. So they may carry it. But it will be a revolution, if they do."

Some More of Mr. Taft's Failures to Keep Faith

In beginning, from the moment of his election, to withdraw from association with Progressive Republican leaders.

In the appointment of Knox, Wickersham, Ballinger and Dickinson, powerful reactionaries and attorneys for the interests, to places in his cabinet.

In supporting Joseph G. Cannon and thus preventing the election of a Progressive as speaker of the House of Representatives.

In gathering about him as advisers, immediately on his entry into the White House, such men as Aldrich and Cannon, Smoot and Tawney—bitter enemies of Roosevelt and the Roosevelt policies.

JACOB RIIS TELLS OF THOSE THINGS POLITICAL HE KNOWS

Was Personal Witness and Fellow Sufferer of New York Election Frauds—Appeals to Californians to Rebuke Such Practices

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—Jacob Riis, the well-known author and sociologist, has addressed, from New York, the following letter to his fellow Scandinavians in California, in behalf of the candidacy of Theodore Roosevelt—a letter which, in fact, has a strong appeal to all American citizens regardless of nationality:

"We in the East who believe in the rule of the people and therefore follow Theodore Roosevelt, look to you in the states that have thrown off the shackles of bossism to make known the will of the Republican party to its leaders."

"You have read of the bare-faced frauds in the South that wrung from the chairman of the National Progressive Committee the warning to the President of the United States that, unless they were promptly repudiated, he would in accepting the votes of the delegates from those states become in fact the deliberate receiver of stolen goods."

"You have heard of the so-called primaries in New York, devised and managed by the machine politicians to wrong the voter, at which thousands were disfranchised. In my borough alone (Queens) over one hundred election districts were left entirely without Republican ballots, so that there was no election. I speak of things I saw. I personally with other hundreds waited until the polls closed, and none of us had a chance to cast his vote."

"But the President telephoned the manager of this scandal his congratulations upon his splendid work for the cause, the cause being Mr. Taft's renomination. An anti-Roosevelt paper headed its account of the New York state convention: 'One thousand delegates wait for the bosses to decide their stand on Taft.'"

"You have heard these things, and you have read of the result in Illinois and Pennsylvania, Oregon and Nebraska, where the people spoke their minds unhindered. The issue is plain; the editor drove it home: Shall the bosses, or shall the people rule?"

"The initiative, referendum, recall, are meant to end such men may discuss and differ about. The question behind them is this: Shall the machine and the bosses keep their stranglehold upon the party that has been the party of the people and of progress since the days of Lincoln, and leave it to certain defeat; or shall we fight to win, with all the inspiration of the splendid past, with our faces set forward, under the banner of the people's champion in the people's cause?"

"Here is no question of a third term, of men's ambition; the issue is bigger and graver than that. It is: men or money—which shall own the republic?"

"Which side are you on?"

"We in the East need a rousing answer from California telling us that she is lining up for freedom. You out there know what boss-rule, corruption-rule, is. You have fought your own fight and won. I know what share my Scandinavian-born fellow countrymen bore in that fight. I know what they have thought of Theodore Roosevelt all these years while he has been out in the open, fighting the fight that this fall must be either won or lost."

"And it is to you I call in the name of our common country: 'Come out, all of you, and be counted.' Which side are you on?"

GOVERNMENT SUES HARVESTER TRUST

Charges Company With Illegal Methods and Asks For Its Dissolution

ST. PAUL, April 30.—Assistant Federal Attorney Dickey today filed suit against the International Harvester Company for its dissolution as a combination in restraint of trade. The defendants were cited to appear on May 6.

Eighteen directors of the International Harvester Company were named as defendants. The petition alleges that $1,500,000 worth of stock had been issued to J. P. Morgan Company for "advice." It also charges that the Harvester Company pledged a majority of American retailers to not sell implements not manufactured by the International Harvester Company. Unfair methods, misleading statements concerning rivals, misrepresentations and selling below cost in some localities are among the charges the petition recites.

Doings In Social and Club Circles

SOCIETY WILL BE BUSY

Many Events Planned Before Commencement and Spring Exodus

The social whirl will engage the attention of society people quite busily during the next month, before commencement activities begin and the exodus to the beaches and mountains becomes pronounced. Many events are being planned that will keep the remainder of the season up to date. The first of these is the "Spring Social" to be given on Thursday afternoon by the Mission House at their home on West Fourth street.

Dr. Beach, of the Los Angeles playgrounds, and prominent in many ways in physical training, will be an attraction tomorrow night, when he will address the Parents' Association of the High School.

"A Trip Around the World" will be given by the First Methodist Sunday school on May 17.

Theater parties for "The Spring Maid" on May 1 at the Grand are being formed and the production promises to be a society event.

The piano recital for next Monday night, promised by Alan A. Revell at the Congregational church will attract the music lovers. Mr. Revell will be assisted by that favorite vocalist, Maurice Phillips.

To Talk on "Playgrounds"

The parents of Santa Ana school children are very cordially invited to the present at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening at the high school assembly hall to hear Dr. Everett Beach of Los Angeles in an address on "Playgrounds."

Dr. Beach is fully competent to give an instructive and interesting address on this modern subject, as he is director of physical training and playgrounds for the Los Angeles city schools, also for three years occupying a similar position in Berkeley University. He is a man and educator of wide-awake, progressive ideas, and his address will consist of Harry Warner, John Simmons, Roy Elliott and David Todd, will sing during the evening, probably giving two numbers. The public is invited to hear the evening's program.

Will Meet Officers

The Women's Alliance of the Unitarian church will hold their annual election of officers tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. This will also be a social afternoon and all ladies are cordially invited to be present.

Teach Girls a Trade

By Dorothy Dix

A woman who is well born and well educated and well situated according to the usual feminine standard, and who is strong and healthy, and less than thirty years old, has recently been left a widow without a dollar, and with three little children to support.

This woman is industrious and energetic and independent, and anxious to provide for herself and her children, but she has never been trained to any sort of trade or profession, and she finds herself almost helpless in her hour of dire necessity.

She knows how to cook a little, and sew a little, and paint a little, and of course, she can read and write a little, and knows a little history and science and mathematics, but she doesn't know enough of any one of these things to be able to deliver the goods in the market.

Her requirements and accomplishments were sufficient for a society lady, but they fall far below what the paid worker must have.

She couldn't get fifteen dollars a month as a cook. She couldn't make a dress anybody would pay for. She couldn't stand an examination for a school teacher. She'd have to stop and figure out on a piece of paper what seventeen yards of ribbon would come to at forty-nine cents a yard. There's nothing, literally, that this woman knows how to do, well enough to make it pay, to which she can turn her hand, and she writes me asking me what she can do where by she can earn a living.

I don't know. The only advice you can honestly and truthfully give such a woman is for her to decide on the kind of work she would like to do, and then go to work and learn how to do it well.

Household Economics Will Meet

The Second Section of the Household Economics of the Ebbs will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Miss Ava Wells, 617 East Fifth street. The subject will be "Canned Fruits and Canned Meats."

Miss Norman in Recital

Miss Lillian Norman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Norman of this city, was the principal in a violin recital given on last Saturday night, April 27, at Holmes Hall Chapel, Pomona College, Claremont. She was presented by Prof. Staples, whose pupil she is, and was assisted by Miss Ines Roberts, pianist, and Miss Beas Daniels, accompanist.

Miss Norman, who is an accomplished violinist, is in her senior year at Pomona College. She has carried double duties during her course as she has kept up her violin studies along with her scholastic work. With her musical talent and her earnestness, Miss Norman has a bright future before her.

The Register still has a few tickets left for the Wednesday evening show at the Bell Theater which it is going to give to some boy or girl for bringing in just one new paid up subscription for one month to the Register. With each subscription, which is fifty cents, two tickets will be given away free and will entitle you to take a friend, and sit in the best seats in the house and at the Register's expense. This offer is good for all new boys, and all school children.

A large number of people attended Dr. Roberts' Bell Theater last night, and thoroughly enjoyed it all. Midgert Sherlock Holmes, the boy detective, with his dog, was the best of comedies, "Sunset" or "Her Only Romance," a Western picture, was beautiful.

Now boys and girls, don't miss this offer for tomorrow night. Bring a paid up subscription for one month, fifty cents, and you will be given two tickets free.

THEY HAD NO SUPPER

But Meeting of S. S. Board Was Successful Nevertheless—Events Planned

The usual well prepared and toothsome supper enjoyed by the Sunday School Board of the First Methodist Episcopal church at its monthly meetings and around which many important business decisions have been reached in the past, had to be omitted at last evening's meeting of the board. While reluctant to give up this pleasant social feature of these meetings, the board rejoiced over the cause; the torn condition of the church which is being remodeled and enlarged with an expenditure of $12,000. The new improvements will include the addition of a balcony and the replacing of the pipe organ.

The board meeting was well attended and considerable business was attended to. Reports were heard, one of which was particularly gratifying. That of last month's attendance at Sunday School which reached 1747, with an average of 438 per Sunday.

The missionary collection on Easter Sunday reached $50.42, with $101 in regular collections.

Mrs. Visel and Mrs. Huddleston were elected as Home department visitors, Miss Corday as Sunday School teacher and Mr. Albright as chorister. It was decided to hold the annual Sunday School picnic on May 25, in Orange County Park. Mother's Day, May 2, will be observed with carnations and appropriate exercises. Children's Day, June 2, will be appropriately celebrated.

On May 17, a "Trip around the World" will be taken by the Sunday School with tickets for the trip placed at a reasonable price. The proceeds will be devoted to the missionary fund. The trip promises to be a delightful one, and many features of interest are planned.

Aid Meeting Postponed

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational church has postponed the meeting to have been held tomorrow afternoon, until Thursday afternoon, May 2, on account of the funeral of Mrs. H. C. Humphrey, which takes place tomorrow afternoon.

Will Tour Europe

The genial "Bob" Burdette, well known personally to many Santa Ana people, will leave on May 11 for a trip through Europe. He will be accompanied by his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Webster Merrifield of San Rafael Heights. The party will wander through Europe as fancy dictates without set time for returning to America.

Personals

Mrs. C. G. Strook, Mrs. Roy Peterson and Miss Isabel Collins were visitors to Los Angeles yesterday.

B. M. Cox and family are busy today moving into their new home on West Third street, which they have just completed.

Attorney Dick Harding attended the Roosevelt meeting at Los Angeles addressed by Gov. Johnson last night. He says it was the most enthusiastic political meeting he ever attended.

The teachers and officers of the First Baptist Sunday School held a business meeting at the home of Judge and Mrs. Z. B. West last night.

A. F. Marille and family leave tomorrow for three weeks' auto trip to Yosemite and other northern points. Leonard Obarr, prescription clerk at Wheeler and Mater's drug store, has severed his connection with that firm. E. T. Mateer, who is a graduate pharmacist will give his personal attention to the prescription work in future.

OCCIDENTAL IS TO REMAIN "CO-ED"

Trustees Vote Unanimously to That Effect—Rev. Stevenson Aided Movement

LOS ANGELES, April 30.—That Occidental College will remain co-educational was decided by unanimous vote of the board of trustees present yesterday afternoon when the action of March 29, decreeing that Occidental should be a college for men only, was rescinded.

The trustees acknowledged that "so many staunch, old-time friends of the college," said one of the trustees, "thought that we had made a mistake that we deemed it best to accept their judgment and wishes and leave Occidental a co-educational institution."

A half hour after the prudential retreat of the trustees the committee recently appointed by the Los Angeles Presbytery to try to induce the trustees to let the college remain as it is, appeared, led by Rev. J. A. Stevenson of Santa Ana. Its members were prepared for debate and lengthy controversy, but were delightfully surprised by the announcement of the trustees that they had already done what the committee had gone to request. The Presbytery committee promptly prepared a report to that effect and ended its labors.

REV. MR. STEVENSON VOICED APPROBATION AND SURPRISE AT UNANIMOUS ACTION

"We understood that some of the trustees were wobbling," said Rev. Mr. Stevenson last night, "but we had not dared to hope for unanimous action in line with our stand. The announcement was a great surprise, and we believe that the great majority of the friends of Occidental will rejoice."

Interviewed here today Rev. J. A. Stevenson reiterated his happy surprise over the fact that the trustees had "seen a great light" and had acted unanimously in rescinding their action in declaring Occidental would discontinue co-education. Mr. Stevenson has aided greatly in bringing about this decision as he was one of the first to pronounce against the trustees' adverse course, and as former dean of Occidental and a leader in the Southern California Presbytery, his words had great weight.

The students of Occidental are rejoicing and it is likely that a big demonstration of approval will be soon arranged.

THE LAND OF MILK AND HONEY NOW HAS A Rival in the Land of Water and Money

The San Jacinto Board of Trade People are making bids for settlers, feeling confident that they are offering the best and cheapest high-class ranch and fruit lands to be had in any section, barring none in the whole state. These lands have not been advanced since the Great Water Discovery. Therefore a moment should not be lost. The wise will make their selection before the price is trebled, or even quadrupled. Home, back home, was never like a home in the beautiful SAN JACINTO VALLEY, for either ranch or business purposes. No desert in this valley, every foot under a high state of cultivation. Its products excel those raised in any other district.
